Icy water splashing against small snow covered boulders in a half frozen creek inspired this Stillwater Crystal Chandelier, crafted with its steel roots and trunk, hand-finished in Wrought Iron. Bring a rustic look into your home with this stunning ceiling fixture. Let icicle-like crystals hanging down from the tuberous roots sparkle like a crisp winter ray of sun through a dangling icicle. It is custom crafted by artisans in the firm's manufacturing facilities in Yorkville, New York.
